

Alien by Gary Bate

What is Alien? It's what is unfamiliar to you.

Of course there are different body types for us to inhabit. Apart from our current humanoid bodies, there are the not too dis-similar (but more fragile) greys, which are the commonist sightings and there are reptilian bodies, praying mantis types and no doubt the 'freak shows' depicted in movies.

I guess there are as many body-types as there are craft. Common craft types are reported as being disc-shaped, cigar-shaped and triangular. Massive Motherships can be seen close to our Sun.

Will your next life be in a human body in human consciousness? Believe it or not, you determine that! Maybe there are civilisations that live under red or blue suns? Maybe there are civilisations who live in higher consciousness, regardless of what type and frequency of bodies they inhabit?

As you evolve yourself, you will move away from the emotionally-based human consciousness to a consciousness that doesn't seek to control anyone. At which point, you may want to connect with an alien family (civilisation) that your consciousness is more aligned with. How do you connect? You simply put out that thought...

Many years ago, I lived with a girlfriend in a flat in Wolverhampton. We were both kind of alien curious. There was a skylight directly above our bed, so I taped a piece of A4 to the glass, upon which I had drawn a symbol. The symbol is a gateway in consciousness and it's simply a blue equilateral triangle (a triad) with the number 32 in it.

That night I found myself 'out of body', which was not unfamiliar to me. I became aware of alien presence, several of them. I saw my girlfriend levitating towards the skylight and I said NO/STOP!

We both awakened and she confirmed that she was aware that she was being abducted.

The greys are very intelligent (galactic geniuses) but they are still caught up in control (3rd chakra). Their numbers have dwindled because they have bred-out emotion and thus they don't copulate. They abduct human women, impregnate them and remove that memory; then they return for the hybrid child, which has emotion and the propensity to help re-seed their population. There are apparently large numbers of half human/half grey entities. They are emotional, galactic geniuses :)

Is it wrong of them to do what they do? How mature are you really?

The Greys have a hive mind and a Queen, who probably looks something like the Borg queen in Star trek. You can join them if you wish. But maybe you'll evolve and opt for a better option...?

Maybe vast numbers of us will all finally wake up together and morph to a parallel World? You think that's impossible? It's happened before! Where do you think all those lost civilisations went?

Human consciousness is an orderly sense of experience and it's something for us to collect the wisdom from and move on...

Does it really matter whether Penny, Rishi or Keir is the next PM? No, because they will do as they're told to do by King Charles, who is aligned with the other super-rich families that comprise the capstone of this secular power pyramid. They are all working to an agenda to enslave us all.

If you don't create your future and you leave your destiny to fate; then you're a victim ~ Gary Bate.
