

Going beyond the Light by Gary Bate

When great knowledge is freely available it doesn't matter about wealth strata. I am not a fan of esoteric knowledge. Those who make life-changing knowledge available upon conditions and at prices that filter out the majority, I say, shame on you.

We are Spiritual beings, who can and do limit ourselves by how we define ourselves. An adopted identity, like Human, sticks if that is what we believe we are and how we behave. A victim would adopt an identity of "I'm only Human, don't put the blame on me".

You are Spirit that can manifest howsoever you want. For instance, in your next life, you could manifest as skin, bone and sinew, with no musculature (a Grey) or you could manifest with super strong musculature and scaly skin (a Reptilian). The point is – you are Spirit, you are consciousness and it is only this that matters.

There are Human bodies and Grey bodies and Reptilian bodies that have a consciousness of control. We should all relate to this, because we have all tried to control other beings. Equally, I have no doubt that there are entities (who previously identified as one of these groups) who have found love.

So the body is irrelevant (it's just suited for its environment); it's the consciousness of the Spirit.

There are other frequencies. Some are close to this frequency and they are parallel Worlds. Some are higher frequencies (it doesn't get any lower than this World). Your ticket and your future is your consciousness and only you can refine that.

The journey of the adopted Human identity is to the Light and back again (because one cannot go any further than one's consciousness). This World is a reflection (same consciousness) of the more exaggerated realm in the Light. What's there is an exaggeration of what's here. Hence the polarity of good and bad is to the extremes in the Light. Perhaps, now you know why I bang on...

Your dreams are important because they come from your subconscious and through them you get to see what you've owned as wisdom (energy being returned to you), but also you get clues as to what you've yet to own and what is keeping you on this incessant wheel of reincarnation.

We never want to be going to the Light – to the controlling 'fallen angels'; we want to be headed (this time) through the darkness to the higher, finer, frequencies, beyond the Light. Why? Because we're nobody's subject and nobody's victim and nobody's slave and nobody's possession and nobody's sustenance! It is a lie that we are to fear the darkness. Everything is inverted here.

If you want to be like everyone else then be like everyone else and die like everyone else and have your memories robbed like everyone else and come back to this dystopian World like everyone else. But remember, it's worsening by the day and the future is bleak here.

What is real for you is how you perceive what happens right in front of your eyes and what you personally get to experience. What is fantasy bears no resemblance to this; it's just what your mind conjures up from seemingly nowhere. Fantasy is what is not real and yet we've all lived in our minds at times. What you think about something or someone is more often than not, completely at odds with how it is or how they are. A big part of personal mastery is mastering one's fantasy life.

Going beyond the Light means no fantasy life, no lies, no secret life, no ulterior motives, an open mind, no controlling attitudes and no fears (expressed through emotions). In short, a return to innocence via wisdom gained. Everyone can do it ~ Gary Bate. <https://www.whatstress.com/>
