The Deception by Gary Bate

You are not supposed to die – that is the heavy conditioning here. You are supposed to collect pearls of wisdom for your Soul to make your Soul 'complete'. A complete Soul has no unfinished business here and is ready for the natural exit known as Ascension. You ascend to a higher realm.

The heavy conditioning here is weighted against Soul completion and it's the reason for it. There are entities in the Light that feed off emotional energy and they manipulate this World to ensure they've got a continuous, plentiful supply of sustenance. When people die and go to the Light, these entities get a second bite, by stripping them of their precious memories (memories contain unresolved emotions, which these entities feast upon).

Lifetime after lifetime, the reason for coming here (Soul completion) remains unfinished business and this is the real karma. Souls are drawn back here (reincarnation) time and time again and they always fail because they don't have this knowledge.

Back in the 90's I had a teacher who said that death was a failure to know. The above is what people fail to know and I have spilled the beans ~ Gary Bate.
