

They're dividing us to conquer us by Gary Bate

They're now admitting that the vaccinated are infected (because the vaccination is the infection?) and transmitting the virus and that everyone is going to get it, but of course that's no problem for the vaccinated; so take the fucking vaccine because our patience is wearing thin!

Here's the problem: they're setting us up to take as many experimental medical procedures as they want to get into us - 2, 3, 4....one a month to be able to buy their frankenstein food...

History is repeating itself. In the days of the Atlanteans and the Lemurians, there was a war between God (the Lemurians who were on the side of nature) and Tech (the Atlanteans who worshipped technology). There is no synergy between nature (natural) and A.I. (artificial).

Check out this too, so you know what's coming...:

You can ignore factual information for as long as you want, but you're not going to like it when you can't get any food unless you do exactly what they tell you to do...

Most people can't see beyond their dinner tables and they don't see the end game. But it's creeping in fast now. The vaccinated (the compliant) will continue to support the tyrants and they'll soon be encouraged to turn on the unvaccinated and of course they'll comply with that too. I've said it many times before – the masses are doing the bidding of their enslavers...

I'm going to repeat myself yet again in the hope that some people finally get it:

The enslavement of the human race (through tech) is at the behest of 'the Tyrants in the Light'. How do I know this? Because the 3rd Chakra, which interacts with you through your solar plexus; is the consciousness of control (tyranny and its victims). It's all going on above (as above so below). Their minions here; especially the ones in middle management (e.g. some of the politicians) are really stupid because they have believed in the promises they've been given. They will be enslaved too. A.I. will eventually be in total control of planet Terra.

The issue for the common people is this:

Do they look at their dinner table today or do they act to stop the reality that beckons tomorrow? Leonardo de Vinci said, "consider the end first". That's the same as saying, "consider your Soul before your Body". He was right and so am I.

There was a mainstream news report the other day that mentioned that the police are now intervening to try and stop crime before it happens! Minority report is just around the corner.

Channel 4 last night showed how the political leaders are turning a blind eye to the desecration of the Amazon and how BOJO is telling school children that there'll be no more coal, yet they're building a new coal station in humberside. The COP26 will not yield honourable commitments; just the usual empty words. Why? One reason is because it's not good for business. Another reason is because they just want to be seen to be doing the right things, whilst they continue to work on their agenda. A third reason is they're actively encouraging 'climate change' (by cutting down the great rain forests and flying sorties of chemplanes) because they're trying to create a new atmosphere for the planned Human 2.0 (synthetic hybrid).

There is an affront going on and it's against nature and what is natural (God). You can continue to subscribe to it if you want, but don't be so stupid as to assume that your Soul is unaffected by the decisions you make.

Everything has changed on this planet, in what appears to be a very short time. It's not. It's been creeping in for a very long time. The goal of the elites is that all of us commoners will own nothing and do as they say. If we don't make a stance now, they will achieve their goal (what they call the New World Order) and we will have simply helped to seed our own enslavement (because ordinarily we do return here) and of course the enslavement of our children and grandchildren.

The shocking thing in all of this is the fact that a few hundred tyrants are able to enslave billions of common people and get away with it.

But hey I get it – you like your smart phone and all this new tech. You think your government can be trusted and they are working in your best interests. You think their vaccines are good for your health and they will prevent you from dying, which you might otherwise do. I sincerely hope all that works out for you.

The split in the global population is totally understandable because you either trust in your government or you don't. You either believe you're being told the truth or you know it's propaganda. You either believe the elite are instigating the great reset for the common good or you know it's solely for their benefit. It's all about an individual's perspective.

But hey, let's be mature and show some decorum, by not condemning others who have different opinions. The question all should ask is, have I got all the facts or have I formed my opinions based upon the elite-controlled mainstream media?

This really is a big deal. The Christians may use dramatic language, like God v Satan and the Mark of the Beast etc, but at least they know that there are moves afoot to persecute them, by the people who hate the Christians and who have their roots in those who executed their beloved Jesus. Yet another example of history repeating itself. The Zionists are not Christians...

If you're bright you'll probably get the meaning of the 'second coming'. It's the rising up of the Christ consciousness in the common men & women of this World. It's the standing up for truth and the saying no to tyranny. It's taking the side of your Soul and not the neediness of your Body. It's exercising your conscience and investigating the the facts, rather than just believing in those who are full of empty promises.

I guess I've said enough now. The collective will determine what the collective wants ~ Gary Bate.
