

What's it really all about then? By Gary Bate

It's about Mastery over this Last Kingdom, which also equates mastery over yourself. That is everyone's ultimate Spiritual quest and what very few ever wake up to. As I said in another short piece – the Soul does not reveal itself to personalities steeped in Human behaviour.

There's very good reason to create new potentials in oneself, because in doing so your Spirit will elongate your life, giving you more time in flesh to realise why you are here and thus evolve more.

You cannot master yourself and this Last Kingdom unless you're in flesh and that's exactly why you took on another body.

I know my writing is 'dry'. It's because I like to get straight to the point and not beat around the bush! So forgive me if my sentences seem like unrelated 'bullet points'.

There's a lot on the spit when you read all of my short articles and so much more that will come from your own contemplation of what I have written.

We descended to this World for a purpose, which is Soul completion (Self-mastery). We are galactic time-travellers and our Soul's purpose is to return us to that. We did not come here to play happy families...

The 'human' way of living is a mind-controlled, conditioned way of living. We certainly have the option to continue that, but if we do, we have a certain destiny – death and re-incarnation. This is the continual 'have another go' path for all those who are out of sync with their Souls.

The 'in sync' way is like swimming into shore whilst everyone else is swimming out to sea...

I've been very clear in my writings and I've left no stones unturned. It's always your choice whether you read my material or not and that is the unconditional way. I can only make the material widely available and that is what I've done. In essence, I'm giving you an opportunity to get into sync with your Soul and only you can make that move...

I've covered all aspects of 'what's it really all about then' but of course it's only philosophy until it's lived. Of course, that applies to me too. The personal 'living' of the lofty theory is what yields the gains for each individual's Soul.

The very advanced state (at the 5th chakra) of 'living and speaking truth with duality or compromise' is so advanced because personal truth evolves and becomes more challenging to live. Mastery at this level ensures eventual total Self-mastery. If one fractures at this level, they fall from grace.

If a person tells you they are a master, you can be sure they're not – they have just made an image out of it for the gullible to fall for. People who are in sync with their Soul do not follow anyone - only lost Souls follow...

We are not here to follow the herd; we are here to escape the pen! Do your own journey. Ride your own bike. Create your own footprints! We all have a Spiritual quest and we can all help each other, if only we stop playing silly games...

Be honest with yourself. Ask yourself, what potentials are 'alive' in my life? Where do those potentials lead me? You can now 'turn on a sixpence' and you should – best wishes – Gary Bate.
