

You are like a bottle of FINE WINE

To me, everyone is like a bottle of fine wine that is gradually maturing. The maturation can occur in one lifetime or it can take many lifetimes and its pace is always down to the individual. You cannot help another person (unless they come to you for help and thus they are open to your help) because they have their own mind and their own attitudes, which means they either accelerate the pace of their own maturation or they slow themselves down. You can only change you and mature you...

The maturation process is congruent with the gradual realisation that this 'physical' life is indeed illusionary. Men and women come together and produce bodies for incoming souls, which allows the 'incoming' to once again experience this environment and continue the maturation process. This is what's real about this World.

The illusion is that we all identify with our bodies and to reinforce that we build emotional bonds...

We are nothing more than the sum total of our experiences and our wisdom learned therefrom. All else is our own engineered drama and fantasy.

A virus is harmless to anyone who has moved their energy to their heart centre. Tyrants can only control people that have an energetic signature (point of attraction) below the heart centre. So we have tyrants who are 'drunk on power', who easily win over the 'hearts & minds' of vulnerable people. Fine wines that are not advanced in maturation, are vulnerable to authoritarian tyrants...

The reason you can't let go emotionally of people, places, things and animals; is because you either don't understand this truth or you've not accepted it. Your family are no different to you – fine wines in the process of maturation...

You are the Son (Daughter) of Source and the Father (Mother) is within you are all around you. You can see that clearly in nature but that's just another self-reflection. You are a fine wine, so please do not allow tyrants to invade your body with their poisons. Your maturation, indeed, your healing, is raising your kundalini energy to your heart centre and that is the letting go of all that is illusionary.

The tyrants know they are in a battle to control the minds of the 'maturing fine wines'. That's why their efforts have got increasingly more desperate (mandating vaccinations & travel restrictions). They are also battling between themselves; jockeying for bigger chunks of power in the emerging 'Globalists New World Order'. It's a serious game because we are all determining the future living conditions upon this planet! If we let tyranny triumph, we will all fall into total enslavement.

You came to this planet for a reason – to further mature yourself. You came to get to know the truth. You came to bear witness to tyranny & victimisation. You came to fight for freedom here. You came to forge a more loving World for your offspring and that starts with your example...

We are not anyone's subject. We are not anyone's slave. We are not anyone's subordinate. We are not lesser or greater than anyone. We are equal. All of us are equal in the eyes of that which is within us and all around us.

We did not come here to be dictated to. We did not come here to be locked down and have our businesses destroyed and our children suffer. We did not come here to wear masks and be poisoned. I had a sleepless night last night and I knew that I had to write this for you, to remind you that you really are a fine wine and you're maturing rather nicely all on your own. To you and I ~ Gary Bate.
